FIRST FRIDAY TOUR
Friday, July 5, 3:00 p.m.

Birds and Beasts

Birds, felines, and reptiles held great symbolic meaning throughout the Pre-Columbian world. Artists familiar with the local fauna created remarkable naturalistic representations, as well as stylized renderings and fantastical composite creatures.

FIRST SATURDAY WALKING TOUR
Saturday, July 6, 1:30 p.m.

The Rare Book Room and the Philip Johnson Pavilion were built in 1963 in sharply contrasting architectural styles. Explore the interior and exterior of both buildings.
