

June 9th, 1949

Dear Mrs. Stover:

Yesterday we received from the Royal Horticultural Society in London, the following:

The Lilly Year Book for 1948

The Daffodill and Tulip Year Book for 1948

The Rhododendron Year Book for 1948

I have added these three items to my card catalogue and also to the Dumbarton Oaks Book List, and wish you would insert them in the copy you have of the Dumbarton Oaks Book list.

I learn from Mrs. Willgoose that a new volume of Mrs. Loudon's on Bulbs is forthcoming to be added to our list. I will advise you as soon as it arrives.

I do not have anything to do with the rare books any more, most of which have been again removed to the Founders' Room, but Mrs. Willgoose has given me a list and I have added them to our list for general information.

Soon it will be time to wrap up my books in their summer newspaper overcoats to keep off the damp mold which clings to everything around here in the humid August days.

My kindest regards to you and all at Reef Point. Sorry I won't be seeing you in person.

Sincerely yours,
