Mrs. Farrand Honored By Harvard

Announcement has been made by Dr. James Bryant Conant, president of Harvard University, of the appointment of Mrs. Beatrix Farrand as Consulting Landscape Gardener to the Arnold Arboretum in Boston. Since the Arnold Arboretum is regarded as the greatest institution of its kind in this Country, the appointment is considered the highest honor that can be given anyone in the landscaping profession.

Mrs. Farrand spends each Winter in Santa Barbara and is a trustee of the Santa Barbara Botanic Garden. The Blakesley Library and other important developments in the Garden were made under her direction.

Mrs. Farrand was a student of Prof. Charles Sprague Sargent, first director of the Arnold Arboretum. She is now Consulting Landscape Gardener to Princeton University, Yale University, the University of Chicago, Occidental College, Dumbarton Oaks and many famous private gardens. Mrs. Farrand's own home "Reef Point Gardens" near Bar Harbor, Me., is open to the public and is visited by thousands each Summer.

The Winter resident is a Fellow of the American Society of Landscape Architects, and a charter member of the society. She is an honorary member of the American Institute of Architects.
