

DUMBARTON OAKS
GARDEN AND LANDSCAPE STUDIES
IN CONJUNCTION WITH LANDSCAPE JOURNAL

A COLLOQUIUM

LAWRENCE HALPRIN

DECEMBER 11, 2010

Construction detail of the Haas Promenade, Jerusalem, 1984.
Source: Halprin Notebooks, University of Pennsylvania Archives.

8:45 - 9:15 Registration; Coffee in the Study

9:15 - 9:30 Introductions by John Beardsley, Director of Garden and Landscape Studies, Dumbarton Oaks and Lance Necker, Editor of Landscape Journal

I. Early Work and Preservation (9:30 - 11:00)

Marc Treib

University of California at Berkeley

From the Garden: Lawrence Halprin and the Modern Landscape

Kate John-Alder

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey

Sea Ranch: A Wonderful Experiment in Ecological Planning

Charles Birnbaum

The Cultural Landscape Foundation, Washington, DC

Personal Reflections on Larry's Legacy and its Stewardship

11:00 - 11:15 Coffee Break

II. Planning (11:15 - 12:15)

Randy Hester

University of California at Berkeley

Interview with Lawrence Halprin, Places Magazine

Alison Bick Hirsch

University of Pennsylvania

Lawrence and (Anna) Halprin's Invitation to Take Part --- (RSVP Required)

12:15 - 1:45 Lunch in the Refectory

III. Lifelong influences and working relationships (1:45 - 3:15)

Judith Wasserman

University of Georgia

Larry and Ann Halprin: Creative Synergy in a Transformative Age

Kenneth Helphand

University of Oregon

Halprin in Israel

Steve Koch

Koch Landscape Architecture, Portland, OR

Working in the Office of Lawrence Halprin: a personal perspective

3:15 - 3:30 Coffee Break

IV. Individual Projects (3:30 - 5:00)

Ann Komara

University of Colorado, Denver

Water Events - Flow and Focal Point in Skyline Park

Elizabeth Meyer

University of Virginia

Collective Creativity. The Planning and Design of the Charlottesville

Downtown Mall

Laurie Olin

The Olin Studio & University of Pennsylvania

The Wheelchair controversy at the FDR Memorial

5:00

End