

October 2, 1947

Mrs. Beatrix Farrand,
Reef Point, Bar Harbor, Maine

Dear Mrs. Farrand:

I am enclosing for your information, and for Mrs. Stover to check, a list of books which have been received from Argosy, Eric Lundgren and Henry G. Fiedler. I have already sent Mrs. Stover a list of the books received from Blackwell's in London. Already my office begins to look for more space for books.

Our Fall garden tours opened on the 20th of September but the attendance has been small because no sign of chrysanthemums as yet - weather has been so cold for this season but Bryce maintains the mums will still bloom on schedule and I hope they will not suffer from this unseasonable cold snap.

Mr. Thacher still hasn't time to see me but in passing said he had a marvelous plan in mind for the garden - a real stroke of genius - so I'm waiting to hear what it is.

I trust all the lumbago and tooth aches have departed and that you are enjoying everything in and about Reef Point. I suppose your Autumn colors must be beautiful just now as the maples here are just beginning to get their leaves tipped with red.

Please give my greetings and kindest remembrances to all my friends at Reef Point. When do you expect to leave for California?

Very sincerely,

Books received from Argosy Book Stores - Sept. 26, 1947

A History of Gardening in England - Alicia Amherst

Landscape Architecture - A Series of Letters -

By Stephen Child

The Charm of Gardens - Dion C. Calthrop

The Book of Wildflowers for Young People - Mathews

Our Northern Shrubs - Harriet Keeler

Italian Gardens of the Renaissance - Julia Cartwright

Perennial Gardens - H. Stuart Ortloff

Hidden Beauties of Nature - Richard Kerr

The Rose - H. B. Ellwanger

Jardinier-Fleuriste - 2 vols small - Thomas Liger

The Little Garden - Mrs. Francis King

The Beginner's Garden - Mrs. Francis King

Gardens Near the Sea - Alice Lounsberry

From Eris Lundberg - Walpole, N.H. - Sept. 29th 1947

How to Know the Ferns - - Frances Theodora Parsons

Our Native Trees - Harriet L. Keeler -

From Argosy Book Stores --

Old Print of Daniel Rutherford by Holl after Raeburn -London 1804 -

