Dear Miss Sweeney:

Thank you for your yesterday's telegram. Perhaps it will prove unnedessary to bring some of your Washington material here for our consultation but I think it best to be prepared with at least some if it as the lack of it might mean a necessary second journey. Will you therefore let me know how soon you can assemble some of the material and make yourself ready to come down for our talks here? If you could make plans to come in the second week of September it is altogether possible that we can put you up at the house as Mr. Farrand is gaining each day, and within a few days the last of his two nurses will in all likelihood be permitted to leave.

You will I know be glad to hear that Mr. Bliss apparently is also gaining and that Mrs. Bliss is looking forward to his return to Casa Dorinda fairly early in September.

Hoping to see you before long, I am,

Yours sincerely,

Beatrix Farrand
