Miss Anne Sweeney
3101 R Street
Washington, D. C.

Dear Miss Sweeney:

Here is the book I thought so outrageously expensive as quoted to you by the local bookseller. I got it from England and although I have not yet received the bill for it I am very certain that its cost, including postage, insurance and carriage, will not approach the sum quoted to you.

I do hope things are going well with you and that I shall before long hear from you as to your approximate number of visitors and whether they seem interested and when you are going to get away for your holiday.

Yours ever most sincerely,

Beatrix Farrand

I wish there were an excuse for asking you to come down here for this year but I am afraid you are so efficient in your job that there is no reason for further prompting you in your part.
