

BEATRIX FARRAND
LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT
21 EAST ELEVENTH STREET
NEW YORK

April 14, 1923

Dearest Mildred:

Here are the photographs of the cedars from Mr. Sargent. They were received only a few hours before my return. They seem to me thoroughly well worth having and unless you feel that we are getting to the bottom of all things let me go ahead and order the three which Mr. Sargent says we may have. His offer is for either two or three and I think we could use the three if you are willing to stand for the price of $300.00 each, plus packing and digging charges.

I am going ahead to order these so stop me telegraphically if I am going too far.

Yours always
