Dearest Mildred:

It truly is amusing to you and me to find the awe in which both you and I are occasionally held. The last proof of this is that when a particularly nice long sympathetic and understanding letter came from Mr. Thacher, he asked me with some hesitation whether or not I knew anything as to whether the contribution that you said you would be willing to give toward Miss Sweeney's salary, had in any way been spoken of. He said there was no hurry about it except that he would like to have the use of it before the first of June, so this is just a memory jog from one "terrible" person to another.

You will, I think, like to look over these two different sketches from Miss Havey. It seems to me between the two we can get something that is likely to be valid and work out well. Truly, that redhead has real talent and a gift with her hand.

Looking forward to seeing you before long, I am,

Yours ever and always,

Beix
