Dearest Mildred:

In looking through the lovely volumes of Dumbarton Oaks photographs I have chosen out seventeen possibilities for postcards and would be greatly obliged if you would at the foot of this letter just add a line to tell me whether to send the actual photographs on to you to look at or whether you would prefer to look them up in your volumes and not to bother with a parcen sent on from here. The list of the pictures is enclosed in case you want to look them up in your own books.

Yours ever,

Trix
