My loved my dearest -

Each day the sand in the hour glass diminishes, but Max is in no pain or distress, & it may last several days, it may end within the hour. It means so much to feel your Robert close to me, & I hope I can have learned enough from Max to meet the future with his courage & thoughtfulness for others. Just now the wound is too vividly present to be able to endure many expressions of sympathy, but the affection of deep attachment like ours is sustaining -

Your own
