Dear Miss Sweeney:

I suppose by now you are fairly swamped with books, as Fiedler's bill has come, also Traylen's and a notice from yet another place that books were on the way. (H.W. Edward's). Will you let me have a list of them that arrive and also let me know whether they are all clean and in good condition.

When you receive the two volumes of Mrs. Loudon's Ornamental Perennials will you please send them here to Mrs. Farrand, as they go to make up her set. These are being sent to you by Traylen, and he also says that he will try and get a set of these Perennials for Dumbarton and also the Ornamental Bulbous Plants which we want - also by Mrs. Loudon.

It will be good to see you again, but I imagine they will be busy days for all of us while you are here.

Yours very sincerely,

Isabelle M. Stover
