

August 28, 1933.

Walter H. Durfee, Esquire,
403 Pulteney Street,
Geneva, New York.

My dear Mr. Durfee:

It was most kind of you to write me. I know from Rutger Jewett what a rare person and remarkable scholar Professor McDaniels was and appreciated doubly his interest in our inscription that he should have been so ill at the time he made it, and I am sure you will understand how truly I regret that my thanks should never have reached him.

Please do not think me intrusive if I ask you to accept a personal message of appreciation and of sympathy.

Yours sincerely,