News of Byzantine Studies at Dumbarton Oaks, Fall 2001

NEW JOINT APPOINTMENTS!!
Dumbarton Oaks is pleased to announce the following new 4-year joint appointments.

Paul Stephenson, formerly of the University of Cork, has been appointed assistant professor of history at the University of Wisconsin. He holds a D.Phil. from Cambridge University and has recently published a book entitled Byzantium’s Balkan Frontier. He will be spending the spring term of 2002 at Dumbarton Oaks.

Constantina Scourtis, who is about to receive her Ph.D. in Byzantine history from the University of California, Los Angeles, will take up an appointment as assistant professor in the Department of Theology at the University of Notre Dame in January 2002. Her dissertation is on the aftermath of the Council of Florence. She will be spending the fall term of 2002 at Dumbarton Oaks.

SUMMER PROGRAM IN BYZANTINE NUMISMATICS AND SIGILLOGRAPHY
Dumbarton Oaks will host an introductory four-week program in Byzantine numismatics and sigillography between July 1 and 26, 2002. The sessions will be conducted by Dr. John Nesbitt, Research Associate at Dumbarton Oaks, and Dr. Cécile Morisson (C.N.R.S./Collège de France), Advisor for Numismatics at Dumbarton Oaks. A limited number of places will be available for graduate students and junior faculty members from North America and Europe. For further details on the program and application procedures, see http://www.doaks.org/sumbyz.html. The deadline for application is January 15, 2002.

Fieldwork (www.doaks.org/project.html)

Dumbarton Oaks offers a limited number of small grants for fieldwork; please consult the application brochure on the Dumbarton Oaks website for details. These grants are not for conservation or library work. Before applying, interested scholars should contact the Director of Byzantine Studies by Oct. 1 to determine the suitability of their projects. The application deadline is November 1.

Residencies for Graduate Students (www.doaks.org/gradsch.html)

Dumbarton Oaks has instituted a program for advanced graduate students, who are either preparing for Ph.D. exams or writing dissertations, whereby they can apply for one to two weeks of free accommodation at the Fellows Building, lunches on weekdays, and an unlimited library pass. The number of residencies that can be awarded will depend on the availability of space in the Fellows Building. The aim is to provide access to materials that may not be available in the student’s home institution and interaction with Byzantine scholars and resources at Dumbarton Oaks.

Bliss Prize Fellowship (www.doaks.org/Blissprize.html)

This award is intended to provide encouragement, assistance, and training to outstanding college seniors who plan to enter the field of Byzantine Studies. The Bliss Prize Fellowship covers graduate school tuition and living expenses for two academic years. It also includes summer travel (up to a maximum of $5000) for the intervening summer to areas that are important for an understanding of Byzantine civilization and culture. Students who have successfully completed two years as Bliss Prize Fellows, have fulfilled all preliminary requirements for a higher degree, and are working on a dissertation will be offered a Junior Fellowship at Dumbarton Oaks. Bliss Prize candidates must be in their last year of undergraduate education or have a recently awarded B.A.; they must be degree candidates at or recent graduates of a North American university/college or be a citizen of the U.S. or Canada; they must have completed at least one year of ancient or medieval Greek (those called for an interview will be required to take a short examination in Greek); and they must be applicants to graduate school in any field or area of Byzantine Studies. Students must be nominated by their advisors by October 15, and submit their applications by November 1. See website for more complete information.
