

How Designers Think

Garden and Landscape Studies
Dumbarton Oaks Research Library and Collection
Annual Colloquium
November 3, 2017
The Oak Room, Fellowship House

9:00 – 9:20 am	Registration and Coffee in The Oak Room, Fellowship House
9:20 am	Introductory remarks by John Beardsley , Director of Garden and Landscape Studies
9:30 – 10:15 am	Gina Ford , “Shifting Scales and Expanding Boundaries; Resilience in the 21st Century City”
10:15 – 11:00 am	Aki Omi , “Passion to Portfolio”
11:00 – 11:15 am	Coffee
11:15 am – 12:00 pm	Sara Zewde , “Ecologies of Memory”
12:00 – 12:45 pm	Jose Castillo , “The Normal and the Marginal”
12:45 – 2:15 pm	Lunch
2:15 – 3:00 pm	Michelle Delk , “Beautiful Function - The Willamette Falls Riverwalk”
3:00 – 3:45 pm	Bas Smets , “Augmented Landscapes”
3:45 – 4:00 pm	Coffee
4:00 – 4:45 pm	Jennifer Bolstad and Walter Meyer , “Future-Proofing the Metropolis: A Forensic Ecology Approach”
4:45 – 5:15 pm	Discussion
5:15– 6:00 pm	Prosecco

Programs in Urban Landscape Studies at Dumbarton Oaks are supported by a grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation through their initiative in Architecture, Urbanism, and the Humanities